Political Roundup

The big guns are really being trained to try and defeat proposition 18 on the November 3 ballot. It seems that the oil companies, the cement companies and yes, even the Teamsters Union are spending thousands of dollars to defeat his measure. Simply stated the amendment would amend the state constitution to allow smog research and rapid transit development to be paid out of the State Gas Tax funds. No wonder that the freeway advocates are against it. It might cut down the dollars spent now on freeways. Its about time that rapid transit got some real funds from the state and maybe we would have less smog.

Democratic Candidate for Governor Jess Unruh got into the act this week when he stated that "the big oil companies spend hundreds of thousands of dollars -- perhaps millions -- in an attempt to create a false image that they are crusaders against air pollution.'

Unruh charged that Standard Oil, Shell Oil and Gulf Oil companies all had recently launched "huge newspaper and television advertising campaigns which suggest that their gasolines are producing cleaner air."

"There is not a shred of scientific evidence to indicate these gasolines will produce smog-free air in automobiles presently on the road or under production. he answer to cleaner air is not a gasoline company ad -- it is the production of a clean car.

"If the oil companies were really interested in clean air they would be spending their advertising millions on automobile engine research to produce both a clean engine and a clean gasoline."

Unruh charged that the oil companies oppose Proposition 18, which would give the people of California the right to decide whether some of their gas tax dollars should be used to fight pollution.

Max Rafferty's campaign people had to issue a bulletin to all newspapers admitting they had made a "mistake" when the cast a slur on the patriotism of Wilson Riles, his opponent for State Superintendent of Instruction. In spite of the explanations from his campaign headquarters, we find it hard to believe that he didn't know about the news release that they are now trying to recall.

Next week, on October 19, we will have an opportunity to hear and see Senator George McGovern, senator from North Dakota. He will be present at a reception at the Salinas Democratic headquarters, 202 Main Street from 5 to 5:30 p.m. We have never met Senator McGovern and will try to get over and get an interview. He is campaigning for the entire democratic slate.

Houston Flournoy dropped a note to the POST and said that he would try to get to the Monterey peninsula on his schedule, but in case he couldn't make it, he sent his regards and hoped that we would support him. We haven't made any decisions on any of the races yet, but we think that Flournoy, at 40 years old, is a very capable man, and as we remember, did a good job as a legislator when we knew him.

Charlie O'Brien has been making the headlines again. O'Brien is the Democratic candidate for State Attorney General against Republican Eville Younger. Younger has gotten himself into a lot of trouble and I see where his conviction on a charge of letting out pre-trial information has been appealed to a three-man court for final decision. Even if the conviction is reversed, which we doubt, he is famous for grabbing the headlines down in L.A. We think that O'Brien is making a lot of friends all over the state with his straight-forward approach to the law enforcement problems in the State. He says "Law and order, WITH JUSTICE." We like that.

We haven't been following the local candidates too much for the reason that our staff is small (one, me) and, unless they come in with some material, it is hard for us to put out any news. However, we see where State Assembly candidate, Democrat Oliver Murray, officiated at the opening of the new Democratic Headquarters in Monterey recently and made some interesting remarks about consumer protection laws. We covered some of those, too, in the Ripples column this week.

Go get them, Murray, the people need some help from the Legislature on that score.

Next week and the following are the last two issues before the election November 3. We hope to cover some of the propositions by then and some more on the local candidates.

Teacher Responds To Tenure Attacks

"Current irresponsible and ill-informed attacks on the state's teacher tenure law are putting California schools in danger of becoming unprotected targets for radical political and social interests, and a spoils system."

This was the warning Thursday (Oct. 8) from Mrs. Margaret L. Lemmer, president of the 170,000-member California Teacher Association (CTA).

"The tenure law was designed to protect pupils, not teachers. It protects pupils by insulting the teacher from political pressures, political patronage, nepotism, and many other human weaknesses associated with power and greed," Mrs. Lemmer declared.

She said critics of the law are either irresponsible or misinformed when they charge it protects incompetent teachers. For in addition to protecting pupils, the law is actually a process for the dismissal of teachers. Under the law, if charges are proven, a tenured teacher can be dismissed for 14 reasons. Among them are incompetency, immorality, unprofessionalism, dishonesty, insubordination.

Mrs. Lemmer, a Lemon Grove English teacher, charged that if the tenure law protects incompetent teachers, as its critics claim, it is not because of failure of the law. It is because school boards and administrators have failed to live up to their responsibilities provided in the law.

"An incompetent tenured teacher can remain in the classroom only as long as the administrator or school board permits it. It is their responsibility to investigate incompentency and bring charges."

Mrs. Lemmer said that CTA has no desire to protect incompetent teachers. But the association does insist, as provided by the tenure law, on fair process for all teachers accused.

"We do not believe teachers should be dismissed for arbitrary, capricious, unsubstantial or unsubstantiated reasons. We insist that a teacher, if charged with reasons for dismissal, be given a fair and full hearing, and the right of appeal."

Mrs. Lemmer added that CTA favors any positive, responsible and informed moves to improve the tenure law and to make it more responsive to the needs of today's education. But to merely emasculate or eliminate the protective provisions of the law, "is throwing the baby out with the bath water."

Further, she said, the present tenure law helps to assure quality education for the state's pupils. It guarantees that experienced teachers, as they rise on the salary scale, cannot be arbitrarily dumped for less experienced and lower-paid teachers.

"The law provides for a continuity of quality education, unhampered by capricious, arbitrary decisions based upon business office budget cutting. It also protects the children from unqualified or incompetent teachers who could be hired because they are "friends" or relatives of school officials -- a kind of nepotism that once existed in California.

The CTA president said that in spite of the tenure law, teachers are still often subjected to arbitrary, capricious unfair, self-serving "outside" pressures. CTA files, she added, contain numerous instances of charges against teachers that were dismissed because they were found to be arbitrary, capricious or untrue by state hearing officers and the courts.

"The tenure law and the teachers and legislators who fought for it have brought true American freedom to California classrooms. So have the teachers who, when falsely or capriciously accused, have capriciously accused, have risked bad publicity, their reputations, money and careers to make this law work," Mrs. Lemmer said.

"Those who are now making broad, sweeping and undocumented charges against the law could push California schools

White Cane Days Are a Success

The Seaside Lions Club reported receipts of $650 as a result of its recent White Cane Days fund drive.

Lion President Larry Stockwell and Campaign Chairman, Russ White, wish to acknowledge the appreciation of all the Club to the people of Seaside and the Monterey Peninsula news media for their fine support.

Funds collected during the two day White Cane Drive will be used to continue the Club's Sight Conservation Program. For the past 13 years the Seaside Lions Club has contributed funds for visual care for youngsters in Seaside by providing eye operations, examinations and glasses for the needy.

Sight conservation is on a continuing basis and as calls for assistance come to the Lions Club, funds from the White Cane Days drive will be used.

New Standard Station Will Be Built

Plans for the new Standard Station at the corner of Broadway and Fremont won final approval from the Mayor's Special Design Review Board for the Gateway Project at its recent meeting.

Due to the location in close proximity to the Gateway Project and to the projected beautification of the Fremont and Broadway intersection, the plans for the new station were considered to be of major importance to both projects. Realizing the importance of good community relations, Standard Oil Company, through their property representative, A. Stevens, approached Dave Armstong, Urban Planner, and presented him with the problem of designing a facility which would be compatible with all the surrounding facilities, both existing and projected and would serve the community needs for many years to come.

With an area almost twice its present size and an approximate cost of one quarter of a million dollars, the new station will be built in the early months of 1971 and, when completed, will be managed by Mr. Gary Crabb and a staff of between four and seven men.

Students Going to London

Honor has come to three of last year's students at the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies. Michael Dean Swasey, Sandra Diane Wade and David V. Rogers have been accepted at the London School of Economics and Political Sciences and they leave this month for England.

Sandra Diane Wade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Famous O. Wade of Seaside, earned her AA degree from Monterey Peninsula College in 1965; her BA degree from University of California at Berkeley in 1967 and her MA in August 1970 from the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies. She is a political science major and will work toward a PhD. degree in England.

David V. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklyn C. Rogers of Glen Ellyn has attended Ripon College, the Defense Language Institute, Georgetown University, Monterey Peninsula College and the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies. He is a student of Oriental history and will be working toward an MA degree at the London School.

Michael Dean Swasey, son of Mrs. Maxine M. Kuntz of Sacramento and the late William E. Swasey, attended the University of California at Davis and Pacific Union College from which he graduated in 1968. He received his MA degree in Far Eastern Studies under Dr. L.Y. Chow in August from the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies. In London he will work toward a PhD. in international history.

MPC Volunteer Program Is Reorganizing Students

Monterey Peninsula College's student volunteerism program, founded last February by students Robin Hamelin and Gail Sommatino with Ed Norris, MPC student activities advisor, is now reorganizing and recruiting volunteers to expand its service.

Miss Sommatino, now chairman of the program, reports that 79 students participated during the spring semester, completing various tasks for such organizations as the American Association of Retired People, American Red Cross, Children's Experimental Theater, Drug Information Center, Driftwood Convalescent Hospital, Monterey Peninsula Unified School District (17 tutors), Monterey History and Art Association, Monterey Institute for Speech and Hearing, MPC Cooperative Nursery, Operation Shoestring and the USO.

Though most volunteer work will be limited to "bona fide" organizations, requests from individuals will be filled this year as well, according to Miss Sommatino. "An old person who can't reach a light bulb to change it could call us," she said.

An additional service is the operation of a speakers bureau "to voice student concerns." Last semester student speakers, singly or in pairs, addressed the American Association of University Women (Monterey Peninsula Branch), Pacific Grove Boosters, "Hi-12" NCO Club, Fort Ord Chaplains, Monterey Jaycees, Lions Club, Monterey and Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club, Monterey Labor Council and Shrine Club.

Organizations or individuals desiring student volunteers or speakers may telephone their requests to the college number--375-9821--asking the operator for extension 326 or 306.

Entry Forms Are Available

The Seaside Art Commission announced the 1970 competitive art show, which will be judged by Howard Bradford, Joe Fuerborn and Ed N. Ward. The contest is open to residents of Seaside, Sand City, Del Rey Oaks, Fort Ord and Marina.

A total of nine cash prizes plus honorable mentions will be awarded to the winners in three categories -- oil, water-color and graphics.

Entry forms, giving the contest rules are available at the Seaside City Hall and Chamber of Commerce, Fort Ord, Marina, Kinney Shoes, M.B.S. and Monte Mart.

Entries, form and fee must be brought to the Seaside City Hall between 1 and 5 on October 24 or October 25.

McGovern To Speak In Salinas

Senator George McGovern of North Dakota will be the featured speaker at a Democratic Party rally to be held in Salinas on Monday, October 19.

The rally will be from 5 to 6 p.m. in the Democrat Headquarters in the Old Bank of America Building, 202 South Main Street at Gabilan.

Free refreshments will be served and the public is invited.

Senator McGovern is appearing in California on behalf of the unified Democratic ticket in the November election.

Murray Opens Campaign

Oliver Murray, Democratic candidate for the 34th Assembly District, opened his campaign last weekend with a call for more consumer protection laws.

At Democratic headquarters in Monterey, Murray suggested a four-point plan to deal with the major areas of consumer products.

The candidate divided the areas to be covered by the plan into three. First are perishables, or groceries. The second area is expendables such as clothing. Third are durables such as automobiles and real estate.

Outlining his proposal, he called for warranties on products to be made a matter of law rather than "sales gimmicks which are added to products when they're needed."

He called for one day's warranty on each 25 cents value for perishables, a week's warranty for each $1 of value on expendables, six month's warranty on each $100 of value of durables and one year's warranty for each $1000 of real estate.

Murray also opened fire on Governor Ronald Reagan.

He said that the governor is hypocritical when he talks about economizing. When Reagan became governor, the state cost $4 billion to run. According to Murray, he has increased this to $6.8 billion.

Murray didn't limit his criticism of rising state costs and, consequently, taxes to Reagan. He said that tax reform proposals presented by both parties are a "lot of hocus-pocus."

Vets Will Meet In Monterey

Frank D. Nicol, Director, State Department of Veterans Affairs, has announced that the next meeting of the California Veterans Board will be held in Monterey, Friday, October 16, 1:30 p.m., Conference Room, Courthouse, 1200 Aguajita Road.

"There are 27,310 veterans living in Monterey County," Nicol explained. "By meeting in Monterey these veterans will have an opportunity to

For years the various branches of government have been setting up commissions which are supposed to protect the consumers. Immediately upon setting up these regulatory commissions the Governor or the President or the legislature fills them up with members of the very industry that we are supposed to be protected from. This has been particularly true of the Federal Trade Commission, known as the FTC. Another of these agencies in the federal government is the Interstate Commerce Commission or ICC, which is supposed to protect us from the various public carriers and regulate rates thereon. Both these bodies have been notorious in their favoritism towards industry and the railroads. The Drugindustry lobby has for years kept the Federal Food and Drug Administration under its wing so that very few regulations really stop the drug industry from doing just about what it likes.

Fortunately there are indications that the pressure of Ralph Nader, in his crusade against the neglect of safety in the Auto Industry, has begun to rub off on some of the other regulatory agencies and there have been many indications that the President realizes the strong consumer pressure building up in the minds of the voters and has dome something about it.

Last year President Nixon appointed Casper Weinberger, former assemblyman from San Francisco and former finance director for the State of California to the powerful chairmanship

WEEKEND VISITORS

Many local residents entertained friends during the recent sell out Jazz Festival weekend.

Victor Boyce, Norman Henry and Tommy Lewis, all of Los Angeles came this year in style, driving a 24 foot Beachwood Mobileland "Yacht", equipped with all the conveniences of home.

Boyce, formally of Seaside and Fort Ord, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blackburn. He graduated from Monterey High School and MPC, prior to continuing his education in Los Angeles. He is now a Dental Technician. His sons are Victor II, 8 years old and London, 4.

Henry, an instructor at a Computer Learning Center in Los Angeles, fathers four children; Tamiko 8, Gavrille, 7 and male twins, Krishna and Kayla, 4 years old.

Tommy Lewis, a frequent visitor to the Peninsula, is a photographer at Universal Studios. He has one son, Mark, who is 7 years.

The wifes, JoAnn Boyce, Yvette Henry and Merlyn Lewis remained home, waiting for good news of their husbands' exciting weekend.

DEDICATION

Elwood Cleophas Williams, II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood C. Williams of Seaside, was dedicated during his christening on Sunday, September 27, 1970 at the First Baptist Church in Pacific Grove. He was born August 13, 1970 at the United States Army Hospital, Fort Ord.

Young Williams' father retired from the United States Army as a Sergeant E-7 after more than 20 years of honorable service. He is presently attending MPC. His plans are to transfer in February to the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies, where he will complete studies towards an elementary education administrative degree. His intelligent mother, Janie, is a primary teacher at Patton Elementary School, (MPUSD) Fort Ord. He has one sister, Christine S. Williams, who is in her 5th year at the University of California, Santa Barbara, where she is majoring in Medical Technology. His maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Willie Baker of Tallahassee, Florida and paternal grandparent is Mr. Sam Williams of Miami, Florida and the late Iva Williams.

Godmother of Master Williams is Ann Louise Collier of Carmel. She is a graduate of Cabrini Nursing School in Seattle and also a graduate of Seattle University, where she completed studies in the field of education. She is presently teaching educational handicapped classes at Patton Elementary School. Other godparents are First Sergeant and Mrs. Charles Barnes. Sgt. Barnes is at present serving a tour of duty in Vietnam. His wife, residing in Seaside, is a registered nurse, working in her profession in private duty in Salinas and SFC-7 and Mrs. Charles Price, formally of Fort Ord, who are noe enroute to Panama, where they are assigned for the next 3 years. Sergeant Price was assigned to the United States Army Hospital, Preventive Medicine Section and the Defense Language Institute, West Coast, prior to his recent assignment. Mrs. Price retired from the United States Army as a Sergeant E-8 after more than 20 years of successful service. Prior to her retirement, she was First Sergeant of the WAC Detachment at Fort Ord.

Following the morning service, a four o'clock reception was held in the Williams' beautiful home, where approximately 65 well-wishing guests attended and enjoyed a variety of scrumptious hors d'oeuvres, champagne, cocktails and the company of their host and hostess.

POPULAR BEAUTICIAN

Allean Johnson, a popular, well-qualified cosmetologist and versatile person, has been recently added to the professional staff at the House of Styles in Seaside. Mrs. Johnson graduated from Atthouse Beauty School in Omaha, Nebraska in 1954. Presently she is a licensee in the states of New Mexico, Nebraska and California. She is considered an expert in all phases of beauty culture. She states "if it can be done with hair or wig, I can do it."

Also a housewife, Mrs. Johnson is married to Sergeant First Class Arthur Johnson, Jr., who is on active duty at Fort Ord. They have two attractive teenaged daughters, Camille Michelle and Rochelle Denise. Both attend Seaside High School. The Johnson family reside at Fort Ord and are members of Bethel Baptist Church in Seaside.

Mrs. Johnson is a member of The Order of The Eastern Star, Guiding Star Chapter 69, Heidelberg, Germany. She is also a member of the Daughters of Isis, Aswan Court No. 152, Frankfurt, Germany. Her hobbies are cooking and sewing, and she loves to entertain.

masquerade cabaret

October 31 from 9:30 to 1:30 a.m. is the date for a complete evening of enjoyment. The Les Grand Coeurs are presenting their second annual Masquerade Ball. Affair is cabaret style (BYOB). Set-ups will be sold. The ball will be held in the Agricultural Building Monterey Fairgrounds. Prizes for best costumes will be given. Donation is advance $2.00 -- at the door $2.50.

Miss Mooney Is Wed

Miss Margeret Mary Mooney, of Del Rey Oaks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Mooney was married by the Honorable Eugene Harrah on Sunday at 5 p.m. to Mr. Kenneth Gajewski of New York City, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony G. Gajewski of Wallington, New Jersey, in the Highlands Inn Wedding Chapel, Carmel Highlands. Immediate members of the family of the bride and groom were present for the ceremony, which was followed by a reception held in the Point Lobos and Fireside Rooms for some 300 guests, many of whom motored from all parts of California as well as New York and New Jersey.

Until Margaret's father's recent retirement from the service, he fully managed Fort Ord, Hunter Liggett and Camp Robert's Officer's Clubs. Margaret's mother is the former Pastora Yuzon of Manila, Phillipines.

Kenneth's father recently retired as Mayor of Wallington.

Margaret is the sister of Patricia, Kathy and Edward Mooney of Del Rey Oaks.

Kenneth is the brother of Gary Gajewski of Los Angeles and James Gajewski of Rutherford, New Jersey.

Margaret attended Monterey High School and Monterey Peninsula College. She is presently an airline stewardess with TWA.

Kenneth attended Newark College of Engineering and is presently National Account Manager for the Xerox Data Systems of New York, near where Mr. and Mrs. Gajewski will build their new home on a beautiful three acre site overlooking Lake Hamilton.

Margaret was attended by her sister, Patricia, as Maid of Honor and bridesmaids included Kathy Mooney, her sister, Carmel Bermudez of New York City, Toni Hyland of Monterey and Carmelita Ordonio of San Francisco. Little Richard Mendoza of Seaside acted as ring-bearer and Lisa Romero of the Presidio Monterey as flower-girl.

Best Man for the groom was Donald Dempsey of New York City and Ushers included the groom's brothers James and Gary; also Lynn Stoller of Los Angeles and the bride's brother, Edward. Mrs. Robert J. Ramsey of Carmel Highlands and Mr. Fred Farr of Carmel acted as sponsors, which according to Philippine custom means the Godmother and Godfather of the bride and groom.

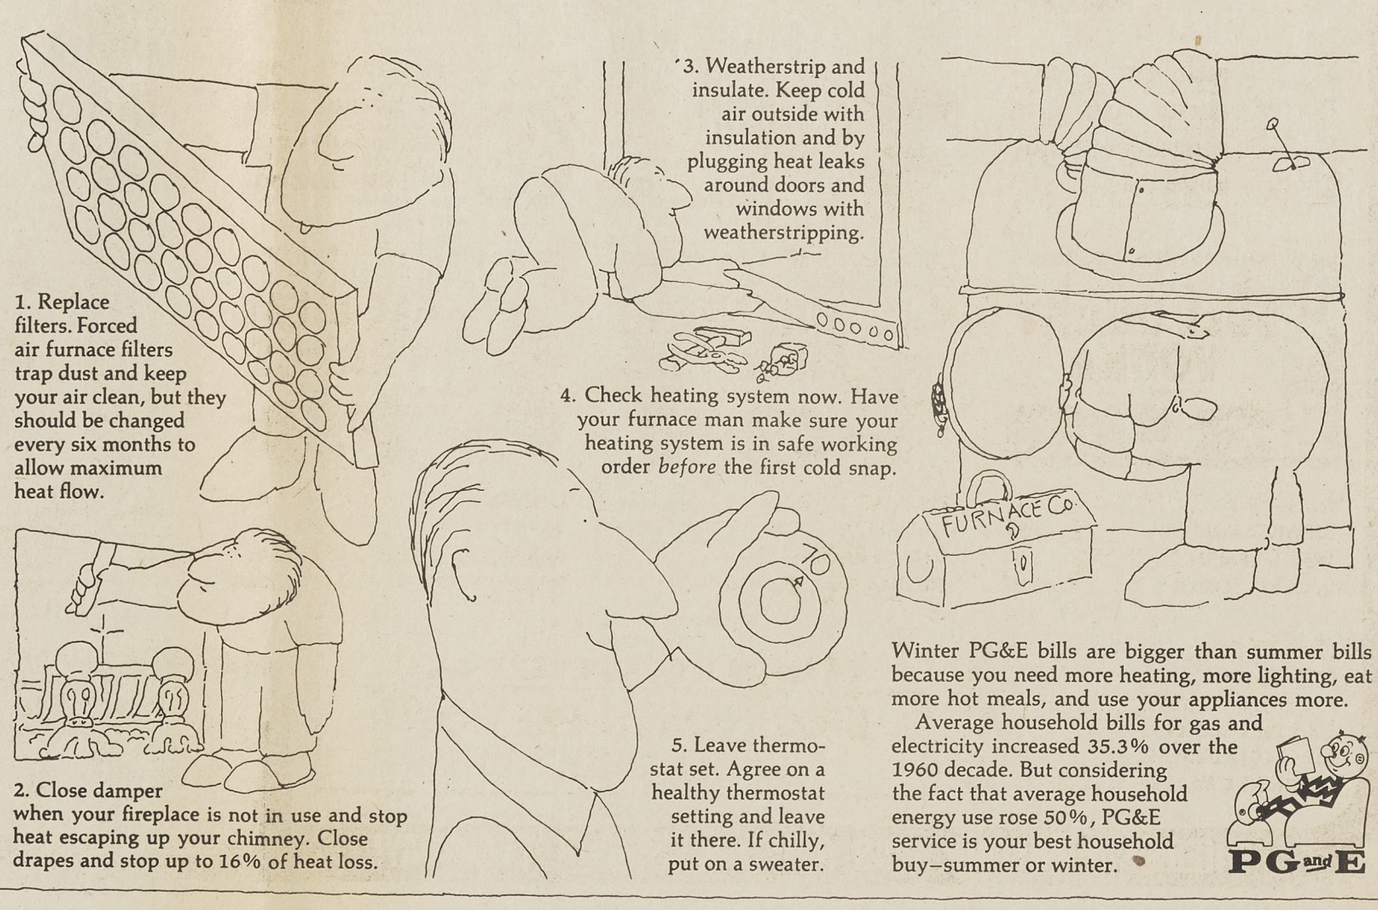
How to beat the rising cost of winter.



1. Replace filters. Forced air furnace filters trap dust and keep your air clean, but they should be changed every six months to allow maximum heat flow.

2. Close damper when your fireplace is not in use and stop heat escaping up your chimney. Close drapes and stop up to 16% of heat loss.

3. Weatherstrip and insulate. Keep cold air outside with insulation and by plugging heat leaks around doors and windows with weatherstripping.

4. Check heating system now. Have your furnace man make sure your heating system is in safe working order before the first cold snap.

5. Leave thermostat set. Agree on a healthy thermostat setting and leave it there. If chilly, put on a sweater.

Winter PG&E bills are bigger than summer bills because you need more heating, more lighting, eat more hot meals, and use your appliances more.

Average household bills for gas and electricity increased 35.3% over the 1960 decade. But considering the fact that average household energy use rose 50%, PG&E service is your best household buy—summer or winter.

Navy ROTC Deadline Is Near

The deadline date for making application for the NROTC College Scholarship Program is fast approaching.

Applications must be received by the Educational Testing Service on or before December 1, 1970. Applicants for this program will be considered based on scores obtained on either the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) of the College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB), Princeton, New Jersey or the American College Test (ACT) OF THE American College Testing Program, Iowa City, Iowa, in lieu of the Navy College Aptitude Test (NCAT) previously utilized as the first step toward a college scholarship and a regular commission in the Navy or Marine Corps.

All tuition, fees, and books are furnished by the Navy and the student receives a subsistence allowance of $50 per month for not more than four years. During each summer between his college years, a midshipman participates in interesting at-sea training periods.

High school seniors and graduates, who will be entering college in September 1971 and who will be at least 17 but not 21 years of age by July 1, 1971, may apply for the NROTC College Scholarship Program. Those who attain qualifying scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test or American College Test will be given a medical examination and will complete their applications in January and February of 1971.

Applications for the NROTC College Scholarship Program are available at local high schools, the nearest Navy or Marine Corps Recruiting Station which is listed in your telephone directory, or from the Chief of Naval Personnel (Pers B6411), Department of the Navy, Washington, D.C. 20370.

Help For Veterans

Representatives from the Veterans Administration will be on the Peninsula tonight (Thursday) to explain to interested persons exactly what benefits are available to veterans and their dependents.

The meeting, which will be held at 7 p.m. in the California National Guard Armory, corner of Howard and Lincoln Streets in Salinas, will also include representatives from Federal, state and local governments to explain and take applications for any benefit available to veterans.

Headquarters For Riles Is Opened

A headquarters for Wilson Riles has opened on the Monterey Peninsula. The office, located at 205 Eldorado St. in Monterey, will be staffed by volunteers Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.

Information about Wilson Riles, who is challenging incumbent Max Rafferty for State Superintendent of Public Instruction, will be available at the headquarters as will campaign aids and materials.

Anyone who wishes materials or who wants to help in this non-partisan campaign effort may come into the headquarters or phone (408) 373-7723. Anyone wishing information at other than regular office hours may call Mrs. Theodore H. Calhoun at 373-4283.

A speakers service has been developed to aid Wilson Riles in his local campaign. Clubs or organizations wishing speakers may call Riles' Headquarters to make arrangements.

College representatives, employers looking for men, advisors and any other people who can offer straight answers to veterans will be there, too.

Seaside Wins Award

Internationally famous photographer Answl Adams of Carmel and the City of Seaside will both receive awards from California Council, the American Institute of rchitects (CCAIA), at its annual conference in Yosemite National Park at the Ahwahnee Hotel, which begins today. The convention runs through Sunday.

Adams will receive the CCAIA Distinguished Service Award, the highest recognition given by architects in California for outstanding service related to the aims and objectives of the architectural profession.

Seaside will receive a newly established honor, the CCAIA Award for Community Design, recognizing the "demonstrated excellence in city planning and urban redevelopment" in its 16 short years of existence.

The selection for the awards was announced by Eugene Crawford, FAIA, president of CCAIA, which represents 15 AIA chapters in California and their 3,000 members.

Adams, who has been equally recog equally recognized for his photography as for his work as a conservation leader, is a fellow in the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and holds an honorary Doctor of Human Letters Degree from Occidental College and is an honorary associate of Northern California Chapter, AIA, which nominated him for the CCAIA award.

His many books and portfolios, including ones on the John Muir Trail, the National Parks, Yosemite Valley and, most recently, on the Tetons and Yellowstone, show a high sensitivity to environmental issues. In 1963 he received the John Muir Award for service to conservation.

Frank Hope, AIA, of San Diego, CCAIA Vice President and Chairman of its Awards Committee said, "The City of Seaside stands as a living symbol of citizens, professionals and staff working together towards a common goal of improving an environment. It is a model city of successful urban renewal projects and federally funded programs."

Projects cited by the Monterey Bay Chapter of AIA in the nomination of Seaside include the Noche Buena Redevelopment Area, the Hannon Project, the Del Monte Heights Project, the Gateway Redevelopment Project, the Laguna Grande Redevelopment Project, the city parks program, the senior citizen and low income housing programs and the construction of City Hall.

These projects involved numerous architectural firms including Whisler/Patri of San Francisco, Sebastian J. Bordonaro & Moore/Turnbull, Architects, of Carmel and San Francisco; D'Amico & Associates of San Francisco and Edward Durell Stone, of San Francisco.

The citation reads: "California Council, The American Institute of Architects, in recognition of a community effort presents its Community Design Award to the people of Seaside, California, their elected representatives and their dedicated public officials to recognize the demonstrated excellence in the redevelopment and architectural projects undertaken by them in the last decade."

Both awards will be presented at the 25th Annual Conference of CCAIA in Yosemite at the luncheon tomorrow (Friday).

Ray Bradbury To Speak

Ray Bradbury, the writer, whizzes his readers through the supernatural worlds of fantasy, takes them on invasions of other planets, time-capsules them backward and forward, willy-nilly.

Ray Bradbury, the man, has been described as "hopelessly earthbound." A resident of Los Angeles, he has instructed the agent who lines up his speaking engagements that he would "mostly wish to appear ...no further north than Santa Barbara, no further east than San Bernardino...no further south than San Diego."

Be that as it may, Ray Bradbury, the lecturer, will speak at Monterey Peninsula College tomorrow night (Friday) at 8 p.m. in the National Guard Armory on campus--not in the music hall, as originally announced. His topic: "The Space Age as Creative Challenge."

Author of numerous short stories, novels and stage, movie and television scripts, Bradbury will be the second speaker in MPC's "Outer Limits" series designed to "explore the physical and mental limits of man and his universe."

Bradbury has been turning out at least 1,000 words a day since he began writing at the age of 12. He sold his first story at 19 and has since published his work in such varied magazines as The New Yorker, The Reporter, The Nation, The New Republic, Gourmet, Mademoiselle, Astonishing Stories, Weird Tales and Playboy.

He wrote the screenplay of "Moby Dick" for John Huston; writes once a year for the Alfred Hitchcock Presents television series; formed his own Pandemonium Theatre Company to produce his plays, "The World of Ray Bradbury" and "The Wonderful Ice Cream Suit," which ran for 44 weeks at the Coronet Theater in Los Angeles.

of the Federal Trade Commission. Weinberger got started reorganizing the department and was making progress when he left recently, however his successor to the chairmanship, Miles W. Kirkpatrick, is continuing the policy of cracking down on false advertising in particular. For example, last week the commission accused the Coca-Cola Company and the Standard Oil Company of deceiving consumers in advertisements for Hi-C fruit-flavored drinks and for Chevron gasoline. Again, however, instead of just slapping the wrists of these two powerful companies as had been done in the past (when all they had to do was to sign a "cease and desist" order, which merely was an agreement to cut out whatever false advertising they were doing, without any penalty being assessed against the companies involved), the new commission order directed the companies to confess their sins, so to speak, in any advertisements for the products during the next year.

The Coca-Cola company, if the order is upheld by the courts, would have to confess in future ads that it had misled the public by advertising that Hi-C is a highly nutricious drink, which the commission evidently found out just isn't true. The Standard Oil Company would have to confess that it had falsely advertised Chevron containing F-310 as a relatively non-polluting high mileage gasoline. Of course both companies issued denials and said that they would fight the orders in the courts which I am sure they will, and keep it in the courts forever if they possibly can.

The litigation will finally decide whether the commission has the authority to do more than just slap offenders on the wrist. Congress has not given the commissions any great authority in the past because of the powerful lobbies that stop legislation which might in any way allow the companies to be honestly regulated. "Cease and desist" orders are all the weapons that we have against these monstrous corporations. The present commission chairman and members are not happy over the law and are seeking to have Congress put some teeth into the law by allowing fines and awards of damages to consumers against any company which practices unfair and deceptive trade practices. It's about time. The public themselves are to blame for the lack of regulation in the past. Most of us pay little attention as to how our congressman or legislator votes on many of these relatively minor laws. But they are not minor. They affect the cost of our daily needs such as gasoline, food and drugs. Last year the commission held off exercising its authority of forcing a confession from the Campbell Soup Company. The Campbell soup people were caught putting marbles in a bowl of soup shown on television commercials so that the vegetables and other solid ingrediants would rise to the top. The idea of making Campbell confess to the falsity of the ads was advanced by some concerned law students at George Washington University. The students called themselves SOUP for Students Opposed to Unfair Practices. What these students did, any one of us can do by making sure that we elect, in the first place, congressmen and legislators who are concerned for the consumer as opposed to those who are always on the side of the large corporations.

Who Cares

BY Mel Vercoe

Congressman Burt Talcott, our representative in Congress, voted against the recent bill which would allow 18-year-olds to vote.

In his September "Newsgram" he explains why and mentions also, even though an election is coming up, that he voted for the Voting Rights Act of 1965 (preventing denial of the right to vote because of color or race) and voted in 1969 for extension of the act to citizens of all states.

He says that because the Constitution provided that only men 21 years of age could vote and because it took a constitutional amendment to permit women to vote, he feels it should require a similar amendment to lower the voting age, and "I took an oath to uphold the Constitution."

Very commendable. However, maybe we should take a look at the record. In researching the Congressional Quarterly I noticed that Congressman Talcott seems to be quite consistent in voting "yes" on military appropriations. He voted "yes," for example, on H.R. 17123 on May 6, 1970, to spend roughly 20 billion tax dollars on military procurement and research in 1971, including the highly questionable ABM farce and including funds to support the South Vietnamese and other "free world" forces in South Vietnam and in Laos and Thailand. Many congressman tried to cut back on this bill, because among other things it gave tacit approval to our invasion of Cambodia, but Congressman Talcott voted "yes."

On July 11, 1968, he voted "yes" on a similar bill, S. 3293, to help overcome opposition to widening the war in Asia. That one cost us over 21 billion dollars.

The Vietnam war was never declared a war by Congress. There is not one shred of legal evidence that Congress made any attempt to declare it a war, nor is there a single bit of tangible legal support for our presence in Asia in the first place; yet our Constitution, which Mr. Talcott considers an authority on voting rights, provides specifically that only Congress shall have the right to declare war.

This is spelled out clearly in paragraph 11 of Section 8 of Article 1. It does not say that the President may declare war while Congress looks the other way and smiles, nor does it say that a full scale war may be started and continued by merely changing the name "war" to "conflict" or "incident" in order to circumvent the provisions of the Constitution.

Why, Congressman Talcott, do you tell us the Constitution is not supposed to be circumvented in some areas, but can be freely ignored on such important things as 44 thousand human lives lost in a senseless, illegal war?

Is it just barely possible that the votes of the young people who are paying the price for this war may be too dangerous to a Congress that has become almost unbelievably out of touch with the needs of our people?

Letter to Editor

Editor:

Hello! I'm a visitor to your area. I chanced across the POST News-Sentinel (issue of September 24) and found it interesting.

It's nice to be in California. The magic of its name is well-known throughout America. The name Seaside has a charm. Who can fail to surmise it is located at the ocean's edge? The mighty Pacific refreshes its air, invigorates its people!

A resident of Seaside is a resourceful soul. He knows how to get about. He travels all around a wide area. Villages, towns, cities for many miles around are familiar to him. He usually has many skills, is a jack-of-all-trades and maintains a nice home.

I predict a great future for the town located near the great Army base of Fort Ord. Its people are friendly. I shopped in its stores and found the service very good and the merchandise excellent.

It is good knowing you all. God bless Seaside

Sincerely Yours,
George Hermann

Fossils Is Topic

"Fossils" - specifically those to be found in the Monterey and Pajaro Gap-San Juan Bautista area -- will be the topic of a lecture and field trip to be offered by Monterey Peninsula College community services October 16 and 17.

A team of two geologists from the California Division of Mines and Geology - Thomas H. Rogers and Charles C. Bishop - will direct both "educational" experiences.

The lecture, scheduled for tomorrow (Friday) at 8 p.m. in MPC's Lecture - Forum 103, is free to the public. The first part will deal with the definition and nature of fossils; types of preservation and occurrence; some aspects of the history of paleontology and the theory of evolution and geologic time.

After a 10-minute "laboratory" period, during which audience members will be invited to examine fossil specimens, Rogers and Bishop will discuss the values and uses of fossils and their occurences in the Monterey area.

Field trip participants will meet at the college administration building Saturday morning, at 8:30 a.m., when buses will take them to the areas discussed the previous evening. Several stops will be made en route to examine fossils and rocks. A lunch stop will be made at San Juan Bautista. The bus will return to Monterey at 2 p.m.

A charge of $5 will be made for the field trip, with reservations to be made in person or by mail with the community services office at Monterey Peninsula College, 980 Fremont, Monterey (phone 375-9821, Ext. 335).

Questions Are Answered

Q. Is a veteran 65 years of age or older required to furnish evidence of disability to be eligible for VA pension?

A. No, unless he is also claiming he is housebound or required aid and attendance.

Q. I was just discharged from the Army, and have two teeth that need filling. Will the VA do this for me?

A. In most cases, yes, but you should apply at once -- preferably within six months of separation. Be certain to apply for this dental treatment before expiration of one year from the date of your discharge.

Q. My husband, a veteran, died recently, and the VA paid his life insurance to his former wife even though they had been divorced 15 years ago. Why was this done?

A. The VA is required by law to pay the insurance to the last person designated as beneficiary by the insured veteran.

Q. I am a single veteran attending college while drawing education assistance from the VA. I plan to marry a widow with two children. Will I have to adopt the children in order to receive increased educational assistance?

A. No. You may claim them as step-children, if they live in your household. It is not necessary to adopt them to qualify for additional assistance.

YUBA COUNTY

Yuba County now produces over 85 percent of California's gold.

Signatures Are Needed

Lieutenant Governor Ed Reinecke has announced the beginning of a campaign to obtain rights guaranteed prisoners of war for our men captured by the North Vietnamese.

Reinecke is attempting to obtain enough signatures on petitions to show Hanoi that even though people in the United States are divided by the war, they do want their soldiers to receive humane treatment.

The signed petitions will all be sent at once to the North Vietnamese government to show them how important the prisoners are to the American people.

Anyone wishing to sign the petition may do so by going to the Seaside Chamber of Commerce office at 505 Broadway between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Ord Finishes Fourth in Competition

Fourth place in the whole United States Army isn't bad at all.

And that was how Headquarters Company of the Army Combat Developments Command Experimentation Command at Fort Ord placed in the army's 1970 International Competition for best mess in the Second Annual Philip A. Connelly Awards event.

The four-man judging team from the army's food service center in Chicago inspected the work of the CDCEC unit's mess stewards in mid-May.

The annual Connelly award was begun last year in honor of the late Philip A. Connelly, past international president of the FSEA (Food Service Executives Association) and for many years, leader in establishing similar awards programs in the armed forces.

In this year's competition, 245th Transportation Company at Finthen, Germany, was the winner; C Battery, 1st Battalion, 61st Artillery, Travis Air Force Base, Cal., was the runner-up and the Hqs and Hqs Company, 2nd Battalion, 9th Infantry, Camp Wentzel in Korea, placed 3rd.

CDCEC's Headquarters Company mess in fourth place, has Major Thomas T. Conlin as its officer; Specialist Six J.T. Bratcher as its Mess Sergeant.

What It Is And What It Isn't

By journalism students of Seaside High School

EDITORIAL

Books are the foundation of knowledge. Books enlarge our awareness, help us to escape reality or to sharpen our skills. Shouldn't all of us have the opportunity to explore every aspect of this great human resource?

For those of us who live in Seaside, the local library is the Emerson Library, located in the basement of the Grange Hall. The library is very small with two long reference or "work" tables, one round table for periodicals and a children's table.

Approximately 17,000 books are found in the library, with special sections for black studies, new books and reference works. Many times, because of the limited book selection, one has to either ask for that particular book to be sent from another larger library or go to another library such as the one in Monterey.

Last spring, before the Seaside city elections, a heated debate concerning the location of a new library came up. The old city council had hired architect Edward Stone to draw up plans for the new library. The area adjacent to the city hall was chosen for the library site. A group of Seaside citizens objected to the site, saying that the bulk of the city population resides on the other side of Fremont. The King Junior High area was one suggestion for an alternative site.

According to city manager Milton Farrell, May was the last time the city council discussed the construction of the new library. Lack of funds is a reason for the delay, as is the location controversy. The library would cost approximately $370,000, according to the first plans, but an additional $50,000 would be needed if adjacent offices were added. Mrs. Dorothy Carnie, Emerson Library librarian said that if the library location was changed to a site other than the city hall area, an enlarged children's section would probably be needed, adding to the construction costs again.

So, in the meantime, the citizens of Seaside have to use the facilities of the small Emerson Library, located in a basement and only open on weekdays. We all have time to go on weekdays don't we? Most of us don't work or go to school anyway, do we? So one supposes that a person has to be an army dependent to fully enjoy the literary works of our time. The U.S. government constructed a new library for Fort Ord--shouldn't it help the city of Seaside do the same for the plain old U.S. citizens?

MUSIC

The tremulous voice of a young woman colors the evening magically, the melody molding sleep with earth, the sky with mystery, child's dreams with a sagacious mind. Her lyrics speak of soft love as only a woman's can whisper of love. Yesterday her song was that of the minstrel's coming from the same emotion that gave us the Moonlight Sonata. The name of her music is rock, folk rock.

Today's music is the character of the moment, the harmony and the dissonant, the conditions of humanity that stand on the verge of total destruction, and at the realm of a heaven. There is the harmony and love exclaimed by a Paul McCartney or the songs of Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young. One can capture the fear of the youth facing death in Vietnam, in the odious songs of Eric Burton and War.

Can one hear the disillusioned youth as he asks the managers of this earth why the world is as it is? What is his outlook on life? Listen to Simon and Garfunkel. Abstract expressionist James Brooks captures on canvas the movement of the sea and the wind and the late artist Jimi Hendrix with guitar and amplifier captures electricity on record. This is the expression of the youth of today, one that sees a human walking on the moon but still crawling on earth. This is the music of the moment.

The youth knows what his music means to him. But does the adult who has constructed this world warrant a definition from those whom he criticizes? Who listens? "I can't discern the words," one person will tell me. Can the untrained ear follow the music of Mozart?

This is the soul of today. If not for mental expansion, then for pleasure of listening to the minstrels, the abstract expressionist, to the problems and the joys of a youth that revels in sunshine and stands at the doors of death. You may reminisce on your own youth or find yourself sympathizing with your children. Whatever, I am sure that if you are at all concerned with today, you will find joy or joy through sorrow in these sounds. They are but the echo of your youth, the result of your efforts.

Here is a listing of records now popular among the youth, and I am sure you will understand my message as you listen to theirs.

Rock groups: Led Zeppelin (Led Zeppelin II), Traffic (John Barleycorn Must Die), Quicksilver (Just For Love), Chicago (Chicago), Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young (Deja Vu), Eric Burton (Eric Burton Declares War).

Soul groups: Jackson 5 (I'll Be There), Temptations (Ball of Confusion), Aretha Franklin (Spirit In The Dark), James Brown (Sex Machine), Four Tops (It's All In The Game).

Monterey-Castrol Race Will Be Tops

The $76,500 Monterey-Castrol Grand Prix on October 18 could develop into a duel between three very strong teams; the McLaren's, Jim Hall's Chaparral 2J and the new STP March car.

Denis Hulme is the current Can-Am series point leader, defending the 1969 title won by his former boss, the late Bruce McLaren.

Hall's revolutionary new car has only made two appearances on the 1970 Can-Am circuit, but both have been very impressive. At Watkins' Glen, Jackie Stewart set the fastest lap of the race in the Chaparral, and only retired from the event because of a minor problem. Vic Elford won the pole position at Road Atlanta and finished in sixth place after a malfunction of the fan motor kept him in the pits for some time. The McLaren people think so highly of Hall's new invention that they are using the ground effects concpet in the design of their 1971 car.

The STP March 707, piloted by Formula I driver Chris Amon, has only appeared in one Can-Am, the September 27 Donnybrooke event, but was fighting with Hulme for the lead until it ran out of gas. Amon still finished in fifth place.

Discount tickets are now on sale. The Sunday general admission ticket purchased at the gate will be $8, however, if purchased now it is only $7. Three-day general admission is now $9, but will be $10 at the gate. Children under 12 free and young adults (12 to 18 years) $5.00 at the gate.

Nurses Are Guaranteed Assignments

The U.S. Army is now offering guaranteed assignments to registered nurses interested in becoming commissioned officers in the army curse corps, it was announced recently.

Additional information about this new program may be obtained from Sgt. Garcia at 431 Webster Street in Monterey, 372-4742.

Paul Newman Will Be At Grand Prix

The spectators attending the Monterey-Castrol Grand Prix on October 16-18 will have the opportunity to possibly appear in a TV spectacular with Paul Newman and other famous personalities.

Paul Newman will be at Laguna Seca to film a one-hour TV special which will air nationally the week of April 19, 1971.

The title of Newman's special is "Once Upon a Wheel" and is sponsored by Coca-Cola.

Not since the filming of Walt Disney's "Love Bug" has such a large and prominent group filmed the races at Laguna Seca.

Atonement Will Be Preached

Lasting peace and brotherhood can be achieved, according to the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement," to be read Sunday, October 18, at all Christian Science Churches on Monterey Peninsula. Services begin at 11 am.

Scriptural selections include the challenging words of Christ Jeses, "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you and pray for them which despitefully use you and persecute you."

One of the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptrues" by Mary Baker Eddy states:

"It should be thoroughly understood that all men have one Mind, one God and Father, one Life, Truth and Love. Mankind will become perfect in proportion as this fact becomes apparent, war will cease and the true brotherhood of man will be established."

Drive Opened To Save the Wildflowers

A major fund-raising campaign to establish a California Wildflower Preserve has been announced by the California State Parks Foundation.

"Massed displays of wildflowers, especially poppies, are rapidly disappearing in our state and they must be saved," declared Joseph M. Long, chairman of the California State Parks Foundation.

The concept of a wildflower preserve as a part of the State Park System has the support of many groups throughout the state who are interested in saving California's natural heritage, Long said. A resolution making the wildflower preserve an official club project was passed at the statewide convention of the California Garden Clubs on September 2, according to state president Mrs. Henry Dolezal of Ripon.

Contributions are being sought from individuals, corporations, clubs and other groups and will be used for the purchase of land in a 2400 acre site in Antelope Valley. According to William Penn Mott, Jr., director of the California Department of Parks and Recreation, that is one of the last remaining areas in the state where poppies flourish in abundance each year. It is highly desirable as an addition to the State Park system, Mott said.

Those wishing to contribute toward the wildflower preserve may "buy" units of flower-bearing land and will receive a "deed" to the property.

For example, a gift of $2 will save one hundred square feet of wildflowers. $5 will set aside 300 square feet, while a gift of $100 saves a carpet of wildflowers measuring 7,000 square feet. A colorful quarter-acre "lot" goes for $160. A gift of $625 will preserve one full acre of flowers.

All gifts are tax deductible and checks should be made payable to the California State Parks Foundation, 315 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Calif., 94104, with a notation that the gift is for "wildflowers." The California State Parks Foundation is a voluntary organization dedicated to helping the California Department of Parks and Recreation secure much-needed additional parkland.

NASA Grant Given to UC Santa Cruz

Scientists at UC's Lick Observatory will attempt to "see" objects at the edges of the universe. A recently announced $60,000 extension grant, made to the University of California on behalf of the Santa Cruz campus by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), will help fund one phase of the project, "Cassegrain Instrumentation for the Lick Observatory 120-inch Telescope." Principal investigator is Dr. E. Joseph Wampler, Associate Astronomer at Lick and an Associate Professor of Astronomy at UC, Santa Cruz.

"One of the most active fields in astronomy is the investigation of distant galaxies," said Dr. Wampler. "Many interesting objects are now near or beyond the limit of human vision. As a result," he explained, "modern astronomy has turned to modern technology to reach beyond man's physical limitations and to record accurate observations of the universe." Photoelectric devices, multi-channel spectrophotometers, and intensifier tubes, daily aid and abet today's astronomer in his research by detecting and recording what man cannot see.

"If our theoretical projections work out," said Dr. Wampler, "the new instrumentation at Lick's Cassegrain focus will make it possible for us to 'see' more clearly objects at the edges of the universe. From this data, we will be able to investigate the structure of the universe and reach some conclusions about a number of scientific postulations on the subject. Since light from such distant galaxies reaches us millions of years after it leaves the source, a second goal will be to go back in time and find out if galaxies formed billions of years ago originated and developed in ways different from those born more recently.

According to Dr. Wampler, "Cassegrain" refers to an optical configuration in which a second, smaller mirror is used to form an image behind the larger primary mirror. It bears the name of Sieur Guillaume Cassegrain, a 17th Century French sculptor. This configuration has the advantage of allowing massive instruments to be attached to the moving telescope, while at the same time minimizing the number of optical surfaces required to produce an image. The recent $60,000 NASA grant will provide Lick with funds to increase the effectiveness of the Cassegrain focus by adding new instruments to the telescope.

Under previous grants from NASA, the National Science Foundation, and the University of California, installation of the Cassegrain focus and some infrared equipment in Lick's 120" telescope was completed last spring (1970). A scanning spectrometer using image tubes will be put into operation within the next several months. Construction of the general purpose Cassegrain spectrograph, and a photometer and polarimeter, supported by both University and NASA funds, should be ready for operation in one to two years.

Lick's 120-inch telescope is the world's second largest ground-based optical instrument.

bring their problems direct to the Veterans Board members who establish the policy that directs California's benefit program for its veterans."

Items on the agenda will include a presentation of a proposal for County Boards of Supervisors with regard to aged and infirm veterans. Many veterans remain on county welfare rolls while unaware of lifetime care and retirement available at the State Veterans Home, Yountville, Napa County.

Other areas to be discussed will be the state's Cal-Vet Farm and Home Loan Program which has been stimulated by recent bond sales; Proposition 13 which will appear on the November ballot, a measure to provide property tax relief to toally disabled veterans and the Paramedic school program for Vietnam War veterans now being conducted at Napa College, Napa.

Nicol said, "There matters are of prime importance to California's veterans and, since their service in the armed forces ranges from the Spanish-American War era through the present conflict in Vietnam, the floor will be open for questions regarding other areas of veterans benefits.

Brewers Intensify Campaign

Encouraged by past success, members of the California Brewers Association are intensifying an anti-litter educational campaign wich was originated more than three years ago.

George W. Osoke, executive vice president of the association, this week said that the 8-point industry program launched in 1967 was being expanded because of mounting evidence that the war against litter can be won.

The association official indicated that anti-litter campaigns being conducted by various industries, organizations, and individuals are "finally reaching the careless and thoughtless individuals who are responsible for littering the nation's streets and highways."

He also cited the reclamation and recycling programs instituted by glass and can manufacturers, as well as by some individual brewers, as having a marked effect on the reduction of roadside litter.

"Public education," Ososke said, "offers the only source through which the bad habit of littering can be solved."

backward to the once dark days of political, religious and personal interference in the classrooms of too many school districts and bossism and nepotism in the hiring and retention of teachers," she concluded.

Opening Is For Secretary

A position for a divisional secretary is available at Monterey Peninsula College, with applications being taken by Mrs. July Pattengale in Building T-3.

Applicants must be high school graduates and have had one year of secretarial experience, though other education or qualifying experience may be substituted. A knowledge of basic office methods and machines and the ability to type at 55 words a minute, take dictation at 80 and transcribe at 40, are required.

Seminar Will Be Held

A special seminar and workshop in conference interpreting will be held at the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies, Monterey, on the weekend of October 24.

Dr. Walter Keiser of Brussels, Belgium, who is president of the Association Internationale Des Interpretes De Conference, will conduct the seminar and direct the workshop.

JANE H. VAN HOOK, STEVE A. SLATKOW, DAVID L. REED; LEGAL AID SOCIETY OF MONTEREY COUNTY, 1070 Columbus Street, Seaside, Ca. 93955; Attorneys for Petitioner

SUPERIOR COURT OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF MONTEREY, P.O. Box 1819, 240 Church Street, Salinas, California 93901

In re the marriage of Petitioner: NOELIA HUERTA and Respondent: ISIDRO HUERTA; CASE NUMBER DR-1483, SUMMONS (MARRIAGE)
To the Respondent:

The petitioner has filed a petition concerning your marriage. You may file a written response within thirty days of the date that this summons is served on you. If you fail to file a written response within such time, your default may be entered and the court may enter a judgment containing injunctive or other orders concerning division of property, spousal support, child custody, child support, attorneys' fees, costs, and such other relief as may be granted by the court.

If you wish to seek the advice of an attorney in this matter, you should do so promptly so that your written response, if any, may be filed on time.
Dated August 13, 1970
EMMET G. McMENAMIN, Clerk
by CAROL M. SCHMEH, Deputy
(SEAL)

The response and other permitted papers must be in writing and in the form prescribed by the California Rules of Court. They must be filed in this court with the proper filing fee and proof of service of a copy of each on petitioner.

JANE H. VAN HOOK, STEVE A. SLATKOW, DAVID L. REED; LEGAL AID SOCIETY OF MONTEREY COUNTY, 1070 Columbus Street, Seaside, California 93955, Telephone: 394-8571 or 422-6655; Attorneys for Petitioner

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA FOR THE COUNTY OF MONTEREY

In re the marriage of Petitioner: NOELIA HUERTA and Respondent: ISIDRO HUERTA; No. DR 1483, APPLICATION FOR PUBLICATION OF SUMMONS AND ORDER

I, THE UNDERSIGNED, DECLARE:
That I am the Petitioner in the above-entitled Petition; That Petitioner and Respondent were married on April 14, 1966, in Salinas, California; That on December 28, 1969, Respondent, without any reason at all, deserted Petitioner. That Respondent cannot with due diligence be found within the State of California. The facts of due diligence used in the effort to find Respondent, ISIDRO HUERTA, are as follows:

I searched the telephone directories of Monterey County and the City of Salinas, the City Directory of Salinas, and the Registrar of Voters, but have been unable fo find his name listed therein;

I went to the Office of the District Attorney, and checked with the District Attorney, with the hope to find light on Respondents whereabout, still the District Attorney is unable to find him;

Likewise, I canvassed his friends, relatives, former employer, the Motor Vehicle Office, Police Department, and Sheriffs Office in Salinas, and other sources of available information, however, no one could furnish me any information leading to Respondent, ISIDRO HUERTA.

A good ground for Dissolution of Marriage exists in favor of Petitioner and against Respondent, as shown by the verified Petition on file herein, which Petition is hereby incorporated by reference, the same as though fully set for th at length.

The Seaside Post and News Sentinel is a newspaper of general circulation, published in the City of Seaside, County of Monterey, State of California; That the publication of Summons in said newspaper is most likely to give notice of the Dissolution of Marriage between Petitioner and Respondent.

WHEREFORE, Petitioner prays that this Court orders that service be made upon Respondent, ISIDRO HUERTA, by publication of Summons in the Seaside Post and News Sentinel for four (4) consecutive weeks.

I DECLARE, under penalty of perjury, that the foregoing is true and correct.

EXECUTED on 8-31, 1970, at Salinas, California.

NOELIA HUERTA, Petitioner

ORDER

Upon reading and filing the affidavit of Petitioner, NOELIA HUERTA, and it appearing to the satisfaction of the Court that the Respondent, ISIDRO HUERTA, resides out of State, and it also appearing that a good cause of action exists against said Respondent in favor of Petitioner; and it further appearing that a Summons has been duly issued out of said Court in this action and that personal service of the same cannot be made on said Respondent within the State of California for the reasons hereinbefore stated; and it appearing that the last known mailing address of Respondent is: 713 Resaca Drive, San Benito, Texas;

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that service of Summons in this Petition be made upon the Respondent, ISIDRO HUERTA, by publication thereof in the Seaside Post and News Sentinel, a newspaper published in the County of Monterey, State of California, which newspaper is hereby designated as the newspaper most likely to give notice to said respondent; and that such publication be made for four (4) consecutive weeks.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that a copy of said Summons and Petition and a blank Confidential Questionnaire be forthwith deposited in the post office directed to the person to be served at his last known mailing address, to wit: 713 Resaca Drive, San Benito, Texas.

CASE NUMBER
DR. 1504
APPLICATION FOR PUBLICATION OF SUMMONS AND ORDER

In re the marriage of Petitioner: REBECCA CABRERA
and
Respondent: NICOLAS CABRERA

I, THE UNDERSIGNED, DECLARE:
That I am the Petitioner in the above-entitled Petition; That Petitioner July 15, 1955, in Brownsville, Texas; That on December 1, 1956, Respondent, without any reason at all, desearted Petitioner. That Respondent cannot with due diligence be found within the State of California. The facts of due diligence used in the effort to find Respondent, NICOLAS CABRERA, are as follows:

I searched the telephone directories of Monterey County and the City of Salinas, and the Registrar of Voters, but have been unable to find his name listed therein;

I went to the Office of the District Attorney, and checked with the District Attorney, with the hope to find light on NICOLAS CABRERA's whereabouts, still the District Attorney is unable to locate him:

Likewise, I canvassed his friends, relatives, former employer, the Motor Vehicle Office, Police Department, and Sheriffs Office in Salinas, and other sources of available information, however, no one could furnish me any information leading to respondent, NICOLAS CABRERA.

A good ground for Dissolution of Marriage exists in favor of Petitioner and against Respondent, as shown by the verified Petition on file herein, which Petition is hereby incorporated by reference, the same as though fully set forth at length.

The Seaside POST News-Sentinel is a newspaper of general circulation, published in the City of Seaside, County of Monterey, State of California; That the publication of Summons in said newspaper is most likely to give notice of the Dissolution of Marriage between Petitioner and Respondent.

WHEREFORE, Petitioner prays that this Court orders that service be made upon respondent, NICOLAS CABRERA, by publication of Summons in the Seaside POST News-Sentinel for four (4) consecutive weeks.

I DECLARE, under penalty of perjury, that the foregoing is true and correct.

EXECUTED on September 15, 1970 at Seaside, California.

Grooving Around The Peninsula

with Betty Mann

Hi! there Fellow Peninsulans:

Happenings around the town included the Big Sur Festival. This brought, seemingly, every hippie, his mate and dog from Haight-Ashbury in San Francisco to the hills of Big Sur. They tell me that inside the arena pot hung so heavy in the air, it was like incense in an Indian temple of worship.

While driving past the entrance of the Fairgrounds, the sights that greeted this non-conformist were something to see. Hair--and lots of it--seemed to be the "in thing"; dirty clothes seemed to be their status symbol. As I watched this younger generation standing in line to enter the Fairgrounds, I began to think that there, by the grace of God, go our leaders of tomorrow. They will be responsible for leading this country and making it a better place to live in. If they don't we may return to the days of Sodom and Gomorrah.

Seems like the outlook of these youngsters is peace and freedo, which is one of the things we all dig, but the free life with drugs and the "free love" is something I do not dig.

As I passed these different groups of tranquil-liketype youngsters, I wondered to myself who was responsible for this generation of hippies and non-conformists. I began to say to myself that perhaps Vice President Agnew, when he said Dr. Spock was responsible for this generation of children, was right because I can remember that in all obstetric clinics and maternity wards in the '50's, Dr. Spock's book on baby care and child rearing was "God's word"! You were not a good parent if every time something puzzled you or a crisis came up and you didn't resort to Dr. Spock's book and follow his expert advice (remember) I do!

One of the main premises of the book was to talk to the child and try to reason with him and, for God's sake, don't spank him! Can you imagine now why we cannot reason with some of our youngsters today. I have always belived in "spare the rod and spoil the child." I believe this old adage is being proven correct with this generation of youngsters, who don't seem to be able to know where they are going and what the future holds for them. I am not criticizing all of our youngsters because I know you cannot stereotype them all as one, but I just want to make a comment on the hippie types. I know here in Seaside and Monterey we have some sharp youngsters who really dig school and wouldn't be caught dead without a leather coat and the latest in expensive fashions. If they dig the hippie kick, they go the expensive mod route.

Other Happenings included: rumblings at City Hall with our mayor and the city council and Mrs. Weingarten. tch, tch, tch. I'll refrain from putting my foot in it. I'll leave that to Andy's column (Seaside Ripples) to give you the really inside and for real happenings.

A movie that is causing quite a stir around the peninsula is "Cotton Comes to Harlem" which is now playing at the Steinbeck Theater. Whatever you don, don't miss it. It is hilarious and true to life. Persons of all races will dig it.

I wonder how many peninsulans who are military personnel, dependents or civil service employees are going on this Thanksgiving trip to Hawaii on 26-28 of November, which was announced in Mary Ellen's column a few weeks ago. The trip costs $120 round trip. Drinks and a few meals, I believe, are included in the package deal. How about that--Thanksgiving in the Islands for $120 per person. Sounds interesting. How many of you are taking this wonderful opportunity to see Hawaii? Aloha!

Other happier things to come in the future are: October 24 is the day; and Terrace school is the place. The P.T.A. Carnival is the thing - bigger and better than ever. Food, games, and entertainment will abound. The country store is bursting at the seams with lots of goodies. There is much too much to write about, so come and see for yourself. Mark Saturday October 24, Ord Terrace School on your calendar. See y'all there.

New director of religious education hired.

St. Francis Xavier parish in Seaside has contracted a director for its religious education program. This program is an aid in fostering Christian development. The challenge of further development or growth is addressed in the liturgy every Sunday. Growing into being a Christian, however, is a continual call, one that is to be heard throughout the week. The religious education program is one means of doing this; of searching and celebrating the meaning of what it is to live a Christian life.

The director hired for this year is Mr. James Tembrock, who originated from Minnesota, and who has just received his graduate degree from St. John's University, Collegeville, New York. Since he feels St. Francis Xavier is very much a community parish, both of and for the entire community, anyone is invited to call him, who wishes to become involved in parish life or programs. His office is in the Church sacristy, and his established office hours are 8:00 to 10:00 on Sunday evenings, and 1:30 to 4:00, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Until next week,

Betty

Employment Rises in September

Employment in California reached 8,210,000 in September, the highest level in the history of the State and the number of unemployed was reduced by 52,000 from the August total according to the California Department of Human Resources Development.

The new high exceeds the previous record set last June by 27,000 and represents an increase of 265,000 since January.

The number of unemployed in September, at 503,000, was the lowest figure recorded since May.

With a total labor force of 8,713,000, the calculated rate of unemployment was therefore down from 6.4 to 5.8 percent but, because of long-standing procedures routinely followed to account for seasonal variations, the adjusted rate was calculated to be 7 percent in September. It was 6.5 percent the previous month.

The report shows that the number employed in agriculture rose during the month by 24,000 to 389,000.

Those employed in general trades rose by 3,000 to 1,761,000.

A gain in the number employed by government, up 21,000 to 1,400,000, reflected back-to-school staffing.
